required.

On successful completion of the programme, participants will be awarded the Professional Diploma in Strategy Development and Innovation by UCD Smurfit Executive Development (30 ECTS at NFQ Level 9). This diploma forms part of the MSc in Business (Leadership and Management Practice) Pathway (see back page for more details).

Module 2

Central to the long-term success of any organisation, strategy defines direction and creates scope to gain competitive advantage. It is what elevates truly extraordinary leaders above merely ordinary ones by enabling them to develop and implement effective business strategies while maintaining motivation, innovation and vision in their people. Knowledge gained, skills learned and relationships made on the programme will enhance career potential and directly benefit the organisations that participants work with, both now and in the future.

The programme provides participants with the insight and understanding needed to lead organisations in a complex global business environment. The focus on Strategy Development and Innovation provides the knowledge and skills required to reach the highest level, whether that is in a commercial or public sector context. It offers business managers and directors with a versatile, strategic toolkit to bring coherence and direction to the actions and decisions of the organisation.

Module 1

Strategic Leadership

- Address the role of the participant in strategy development and innovation;
- Develop a personal action plan that draws on foundational skills and cross-functional knowledge to create a strategy statement;
- Gain an understanding of organisation culture and sub-cultures;
- Develop self-awareness and critical assessment of key strengths and development needs as strategic leaders.

Strategy in a Turbulent Environment – The New Normal

- Review ways in which global economic shifts and rapid technological changes are transforming the business landscape;
- Understand the traditional concepts of competitive advantage, value creation and strategy;
- Develop an appreciation of the "megatrends" influencing the context for strategy over the next 5-10 years;
- Develop an ability to construct and employ scenario thinking in the development of strategy;
- Gain an informed perspective on the importance and costs of building strategic flexibility in the organisation.

Module 3

Market Position and Strategic Competitive Advantage

- Equip participants with a sound understanding of the principles of positioning and competitive advantage;
- Design and evaluate an organisation's market position;
- Review and critique an organisation's competitive strategy and evaluate the ability to provide a sustainable advantage;
- Develop competitive strategy into a well-articulated and presented business plan.

Who is it for?

- Individuals with at least 5 years managerial experience, seeking to enhance their skills in strategy;
- Senior executives seeking to enhance their skills in contributing to strategy development and innovation;
- Managers involved in strategic planning, implementation or change management;
- Individual contributors who are tasked with managing the strategy process;
- · Advisors and Management Consultants.

Key Benefits

Participants develop their capabilities in making and executing effective strategic decisions and acquire deep insight into how to manage innovation and lead change.

Specifically, the programme will:

- Equip the participant with the tools to assess and address the strategic challenges that face their organisation;
- Provide learning strategies for turning resistance into co-operation and for extracting maximum benefit from new opportunities;
- Improve strategic decision-making capability in addition to the ability to re-think strategy in the light of new economic and business realities;
- Build an in-depth understanding of the strategic decisions that individuals need to make, to support and apply innovation.

FACULTY

Our dedicated team of faculty are widely recognised as skilled educators, ground-breaking researchers and accomplished authors. Through publishing, consulting and teaching they leverage their business expertise and field-based research to deliver programmes, encourage participants to develop new ways of thinking, widen their perspectives and to understand their own challenges and capabilities. The faculty present topics in a range of engaging methods such as 'action learning' projects, case studies, role plays, individual assessment and one-on-one coaching, so as to deliver a unique and lasting learning experience.
